Children's Mercy

"Never give up, man. The fight's never over. Everybody's always with you."
— Jaxson, age 11

Every child deserves the chance to keep fighting.

At just 3 years old, Jaxson was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL). Over the next eight years, he endured multiple rounds of treatment, three relapses and a bone marrow transplant. Through every setback, Jaxson faced cancer with remarkable courage and determination.

Today, Jaxson is in remission and focused on what he loves most: cheering on his favorite teams, collecting baseball cards and helping other families navigating childhood cancer.

Funding from Big Slick helps advance pediatric cancer research and provide access to innovative treatments, creating more stories of hope for children like Jaxson and the families who stand beside them.
